

SACRED HEART PARISH

32nd Sunday in Ordinary Time
November 8, 2015

Now Playing:

Father Kevin's Liturgy Workshop Videos!

All Eucharistic Ministers, Lectors, and parishioners are invited to watch the newly produced videos of Father Kevin's Liturgy

Workshop on our Sacred Heart YouTube channel.

Father Kevin offers a wide-ranging introduction into the bits and pieces of the Mass and how they come together in one great prayer of the Church. He follows by presenting an explanation of the minor changes in our manner of celebrating Mass here at Sacred Heart along with a walk-through of the changes. All EM's and Lectors who missed the workshop itself are asked to take the time to view the videos as soon as possible.

You can access the first video on YouTube using the following www address: www.youtube.com/watch?v=iGRS0aF6ljw

Eucharistic Ministers & Lectors:

Thank you so much for your generous service to the parish! Just a quick reminder to arrive at the church 10-15 minutes before Mass is scheduled to begin; it really helps us to know you are here and to advise you of any changes or updates for the day. If you arrive after the entrance procession has begun, please presume we have found someone to replace you; there is no need to "pop up" to help at communion time.

Attention All Parish Volunteers:

As many of you know, the diocese has been working hard to get volunteers trained in sexual abuse awareness and prevention and to convert our records to the new VirtusOnline system. If you have previously been trained in sexual abuse awareness and prevention and your initial training was over a year ago, you should have recently received an email from VirtusOnline asking you to update your training by reading a passage and answering some questions online. If you DID NOT receive this email, we need to either update your account (we may not have your email on file) or you may need to attend an in-person training. If we need to update your account or if you are not sure if you need additional training, please contact Paul Macias at pmacias@dioceseofspokane.org or (509)251-5818 and we will get you all caught up.

Adult Faith Sharing Group

We meet every Sunday at 8:45 a.m. in the downstairs classroom at the north end of the Parish Center.

Our Parish Sacrificial Offerings This Week:

Envelope & Plate Offering: $ 5,100.50

Outreach: $ 10.00

Children: $ 20.04

In order to meet our 2015-16 budget, an average weekly collection of $5,713.00 is needed. Thank you so much!

Both widows in today's readings gave all they had to the work of the Lord, one using all her remaining food to feed Elijah and the other offering her two copper coins to the temple treasury. Faithful stewards give all that is asked and trust the Lord to be faithful to His promises.

NEW TO SACRED HEART PARISH? WELCOME! We look forward to getting to know you!

OUR BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE

You are invited to include a page in this book listing your deceased family members and friends. Please insert your family's page in the Book of Remembrance on the stand in the sanctuary. We will pray for them at daily Mass (by name to the extent possible).

Information pages can be found in the foyer of the church.

SOLEMNITY OF CHRIST THE KING: NOV. 21-22

We will celebrate Anointing of the Sick at the 5PM Mass on Saturday and at the 10AM Mass on Sunday. Examples of persons who are appropriate recipients of this sacrament include: those afflicted by a serious illness or chronic health condition; those noticeably weakened by age; those suffering from an emotional illness or addiction; those preparing for surgery. The power of this sacrament goes beyond those who are anointed. The prayer of the community strengthens each of us in the daily struggle to face the mystery of suffering while remaining faithful.

A Word from Father...

Dear Friends:

What a great weekend I had in Pullman!

As you may know, I was reassigned to Sacred Heart Parish from St. Thomas More Newman Center in early June, long after most of the Catholic students who I pastored there for five years had left town for their summer break; we didn't have an opportunity for a proper farewell and that felt, both to me and, I believe, to them, as something left incomplete. As one of the students wrote me last summer, "We have a Father Kevin—size hole in our hearts." So going back to Pullman, WSU, and most of all, to St. Thomas More was really an opportunity to bring closure to my ministry there in a very personal and warm way.

My days there were everything I could have hoped for and more! Attending the big game against Stanford was a lot of fun, for sure, but it was really not nearly as significant as the opportunity to celebrate the three Sunday masses at the Newman Center (two in English, one in Spanish) as well as attend the Friday Night Dinner (Halloween-themed, of course). I was able to visit with "my kids" at some length and catch up with them on the latest chapters in their studies and prospects for employment in their favored careers. More than that, I was able to let them know how much I have missed them and that leaving them was much more difficult than I ever expected. Likewise, they were able to say how much they missed me (even as they love their new pastor, Father Luke), and how happy they were to have me back, if even just for a weekend. Some of the student-leaders who had been my chief co-workers over the last few years presented me with a hard-bound photo book filled with pictures from across the last five years accompanied by their messages of appreciation and well-wishes for me in my new ministry here among you.

Leaving a parish is always a little bit painful because we as pastors grow to know and love the people we serve and we become a kind of family. This is even more true in leaving Newman ministry because they are so young and come to trust their pastor so much. Coming to a new parish is always an adventure of the heart, too, as new relationships are built and a new family forms. Coming back to Sacred Heart this week after my days in Pullman remind me of just how much all of you are coming to mean to me. In the months and years to come, may we continue to grow in friendship, faith, service, and grace one another greatly. As I was so blessed to be pastor of our Catholic Cougs in Pullman, so now I am so blessed to be pastor of our Catholics family at Sacred Heart!

Thank you for your welcome, your warmth, and your confidence in me these first few months together. Let us continue to pray for one another!

Fr. Kevin

P.S. By the way, the game against Stanford was thrilling! Next year we shall beat those Californians, I hereby predict!
